Briefly:

Microsoft Viva has sent an email to Hamza Haddad with insights into his work habits over the past four weeks. The email includes information on 21 uninterrupted days of quiet work, 3% of time dedicated to collaboration, and the most common types of meetings attended. Viva Insights can help Hamza find time for important tasks by automatically scheduling up to 4 hours of individual work per day. The email also includes details on Hamza's available time for individual work and his network of active collaborators.

In a glance:

- An in-depth review of work habits over the past four weeks is available
- Information on 21 uninterrupted quiet days is provided
- 3% of weekly collaboration time is spent on meetings, emails, conversations, and calls
- 100% of meetings are held on Skype or Teams, with no conversations or emails
- Viva Insights can help schedule up to 4 hours of individual work per day
